Commander Wiley Says Crew Did Its Duty Before Crash

Errors Were Made, He Says They Were Beyond Existing Skill—Furniture Made As Life Rafts.

Lakehurst, N. J., April 11 (AP).—Lieutenant Commander Herbert V. Wiley, completing his story of the Akron disaster at the naval inquiry today, said the officers and crew did their duty to the best of their ability before the ship burst through lightning to her destruction in the great crash.

"If any errors were made," he said before he left the witness stand, "they were beyond skill and experience existing today."

Questions relating to the Akron's safety equipment for her crew and to a mistake in orders by which her course was changed 50 degrees instead of 15 as she sought to find a way out of the storm area were asked Wiley before he finished his testimony.

The commander, he said, had ordered a 15 degree change in course, which was misinterpreted as an order for a 50 degree change.

"In my opinion," Wiley said, "the mistake had no bearing on later events, although it might have had."

After a pause, he added, raising his voice slightly: "It was immaterial."

Asked whether the Akron was fitted with lifeboats or rafts, Wiley replied that she carried one air-inflated life raft, "with a capacity, I think, of 14 persons," but that all her cushions and mattresses were so designed that they could be used for life preservers.

Sister Ship of Akron To Be Tested April 13

Akron, O., April 11 (AP).—Trim and neat in her new coat of silver fabric, the U. S. S. Macon, sister ship to the ill-fated Akron, was undergoing final inspection today preparatory to a first tour of the clouds.

Lieut. Commander T. G. W. Settle and his naval inspectors clambered over the catwalks and rigging where yesterday Goodyear-Zeppelin engineers examined the ship from bow to stern in their final check-up.

Tomorrow she will be tuned over to her crew of 75 men and 13 officers under Lieut. Commander Alger H. Dressel. Members of the crew will take their assignments to stations and move their luggage aboard, ready for the first flight expected to take place shortly after dawn Thursday.

Of the same behemoth length and girth as the Akron, powered by like giant motors, the Macon nevertheless is expected by her builders to be faster and lighter because of many minor refinements in structure and equipment.

A corps of Goodyear-Zeppelin engineers will be aboard with the crew on the first flight. About six tests are to be run, each designed to try the powers of the ship to the full.

Was Pioneer in the Automotive Industry

Detroit, April 11 (AP).—William E. Metzger, 64, one of the best known figures in the early days of the automobile industry, died at his home here today. He had been ill for four years and had confined his activity in recent years to occasional attendance at meetings of companies in which he held an interest.

"Billy" Metzger, as his friends knew him, probably had more widespread interests in the automotive industry than any other individual. Like many of the pioneers in the industry Metzger was in the bicycle business when horseless carriages began to attract popular attention.

He was one of the original organizers of the Northern Motor Car Company. That company later became the Wayne Automotive Co. and subsequently "E. M. F." Company, in which the founders were Byron Everett, Walter Flaanders and himself.

Aside from his activity in the manufacturing division of the industry, however, Metzger was one of its original high pressure salesmen. He became one of the organizers and sales manager of the old Cadillac Motor Car Co. in 1902, and by his prowess as a salesman was credited with pulling it through the first lean years of its existence.

EARLY MORNING FIRE IN GARAGE ON POST STREET

Shortly after 2 o'clock this morning a fire was discovered in the garage of Morris Affron at 38 Post street, and the fire department responded to a call from box 42. The garage was occupied by Louis Kline who kept his Brockway truck in the building. The fire, according to the fire department, apparently started in the cab of the truck. The truck was badly damaged as well as the wooden roof of the garage. The sidewalk of the garage was of concrete blocks.

'Deaf and Dumb' Shaw Arrives in Silence as He Trains for Speech

Will Make Single Address This Evening at Metropolitan Opera House—Scenes Committee of New York Press Seeking Interview.

New York, April 11 (AP).—George Bernard Shaw, who recently characterized the American people as deaf and dumb, today placed himself in the same classification "for the moment."

"I may be regarded as deaf and dumb for the moment," he said in a note declining to be interviewed as he arrived to make a speech at the Metropolitan Opera House tonight.

Some sixty or seventy persons, comprising magazine writers, motion picture photographers, newspaper photographers and ship news reporters, formed a reception committee which met the S. S. Empress of Britain at Quarantine out in New York's Bay.

The Irish wit and playwright on his first visit to the metropolis refused to see them, thus taking to himself the distinction of being one of the few celebrities to evade New York's customary mass interview.

His sole scheduled appearance in New York is an address tonight at the Metropolitan Opera House.

In reply to a note from the reception committee, which was signed on behalf of "The New York Press," Shaw sent this reply:

"The New York press may return to its firebrands and nurse the baby until tomorrow morning, except the enterprising section which came on board at Havana and discussed everything with me for an hour and forty minutes. Today I am in training for the Metropolitan Opera House, tonight and may be regarded as deaf and dumb for the moment. With regrets and apologies."

"G. B. S."

The question: to which Shaw replied, was put this way:

"The New York press feels that unless you see fit to grant a personal interview there is no story to be written. We feel sure that you do not wish to be represented by a printed handout which of course, is not acceptable to us."

The printed handout, to which the question referred, was distributed to the newspapermen by a press agent for the steamship line. This was labeled "Shaw Interview."

JAPANESE CAPTURE GREAT WALL CITY

Tokyo, April 11 (AP).—A smashing attack along a 200-mile stretch of the great wall of China was reported to have resulted finally in the capture of the City of Lengchow today.

Massed Chinese concentrations had stubbornly resisted assaults at this point for a month, the Japanese admitted, while claiming the occupation of every other great wall pass along the southern Jehol border.

The Japanese war office announced this last stronghold, about 50 miles west of the Yellow Sea, was taken over by its troops this morning. The immediate objective of the new drive launched yesterday there and into China proper from all other important passes along the wall was to prevent Chinese rushing reinforcements to Lengchow.

EXPERTS NAMED TO AID MAC DONALD ON TALKS

London, April 11 (AP).—Four experts who will accompany Prime Minister Ramsay Mac Donald when he sails April 15 for Washington for the talks on world problems with President Roosevelt were named today.

They are Sir Robert Vane Sturt, permanent head of the foreign office; Sir Patrick Leith Ross, chief economic adviser to the government; J. A. Overton, of the board of trade; J. A. Barlow, principal private secretary to the prime minister.

His daughter, Isabel, also will accompany the prime minister.

Ambulance Calls Here

The ambulance on Monday conveyed Miss Dore Fuller from 107 Albany avenue to the Kingston Hospital. Early this morning Mrs. Beatrice Tenbroeck was removed from 37 Chambers street to the Kingston Hospital. Today Mrs. Emma Smedes was removed from her home, 19 Liberty street, to the Kingston Hospital, where she underwent a slight operation and later was returned to her home.

Benedictine Ball Floor Committee

N. D. J. Murphy, chairman of the Floor Committee for the Green and Gold Ball, has chosen a large and competent committee and everybody will be escorted to a good seat for the entertainment on Easter Monday night. The committee is as follows: Albert N. Cook, E. J. Dempsey, C. Ray Everett, E. Frank Flanagan, Walter Faries, Vincent A. Gorman, Joseph Garand, Conrad Hefelmann, James R. Higley, Thomas J. Kennedy, John B. Kearney, Joseph L. Keenan, Edward B. Loughran, A. W. Mollott, Walter C. Miller, William B. Martin, Frank L. Meagher, Philip M. Ford, C. B. Murray, Frank T. Murray, Philip T. Schantz, Edgar T. Schantz and Senator A. H. Hicks.

Milk Control Board Considers Problems Facing the Dairymen

Albany, N. Y., April 11 (AP).—The newly created Milk Control Board today took up the problem of bringing the state's milk industry "out of the red" and placing it on a sound basis by strict state regulations.

With one member of the board still to be named by Governor Lehman, the other two members, Charles H. Baldwin, state commissioner of Agriculture and Markets, and Dr. Thomas Parran, Jr., state commissioner of health, were prepared today to initiate the state's first experiment in price fixing.

The first step will be the licensing of all dealers, preparatory to fixing the minimum price which they must charge consumers for retail milk. The licensing provision is the whip with which the board can keep the distributors in line. Unfair trade practices are grounds for revoking the license.

Meanwhile, Governor Lehman considered several names as he prepared to appoint the man who will be known as the "Milk Czar" of the state. He indicated that he would make the appointment within the next day or two.

Placed by the passage of the milk control measure the milk producers, who last week were dumping thousands of gallons of milk in protest of the legislature's delay, were back at home today waiting for a trial of the experiment.

As soon as the dealers are licensed, the board will fix the minimum price to consumers as required by the law. This provision was designed, according to Senator Perley A. Pitcher, author of the bill, to put an end to the "chisler" who cuts milk prices and demoralizes the market.

Execution of Mrs. Judd Draws Near

Phoenix, Ariz., April 11 (AP).—With but a day or so remaining before Winnie Ruth Judd is removed to the death cell, her attorneys today planned a direct appeal to the state supreme court for her release by a writ of habeas corpus.

Mrs. Judd, sentenced to die at dawn April 21 for the "trunk murder" of Agnes Anna Leach, lost another legal move yesterday in a superior court decision denying her a new trial.

In announcing their new plans, her attorneys, O. V. Willson, Erwin H. Harz and Howard G. Richardson, said by application for a writ of habeas corpus they hoped to get before the supreme court affidavits which the superior court declined to consider. Superior Judge Howard C. Speakman said the supreme court, in rejecting Mrs. Judd's appeal, had stripped him of jurisdiction.

The affidavits are intended to show that the trial jury made a "deal" whereby they convicted Mrs. Judd to "make her talk" and implicate others in the slaying of Mrs. Leach and Hedvig Samuelson and dismemberment of their bodies, which were shipped to Los Angeles in trunks.

Warden A. G. Walker of the state prison said Mrs. Judd's spells of extreme nervousness and hysteria have increased as the day for her hanging nears, but he added he was not ready to say whether he would ask a sanity hearing for her.

Several times she has declared she would commit suicide, Walker said, but she is under constant guard.

Conservator Nash Submits Plan To Return National Ulster County Bank To Solvency

Singing Roosters Gave Dixon Away

He Had Three Stolen Chickens in a Suit Case Slung Over His Shoulder—Their Tail Feathers Protruded From Suit Case and They Were Singing.

Attracted by the sound of singing or whatever noise you desire to term that emitted by three protesting roosters packed into a suit case, Officer Joseph Fallon of the Kingston police force glanced behind him to one side and then he saw Martin Dixon, 33, of 228 South Wall street, walking homeward at an early hour last Friday morning. Dixon had a suit case slung over his shoulder from which strange sounds or music emerged. Glancing closer the police officer saw the tail feathers of what appeared to be roosters protruding from the suit case.

It was a strange sight for so early in the morning and Officer Fallon accosted Dixon and told him he had better go to police headquarters with him. When they arrived there the suit case was opened and out popped three Light Brahma roosters, still indignantly protesting at the top of their voices the indignity of being awakened and removed from a warm hen house and stuffed into a suit case.

Further investigation disclosed the fact that Dixon on his way home had stopped in the yard of William Jones at 182 South Wall street and helped himself to three roosters. Mr. Jones later identified the roosters as from his flock and they were turned over to him.

Dixon was arrested on a charge of burglary in the third degree. This morning he was allowed to plead guilty to petty larceny and was sentenced to 30 days in the county jail, when arraigned in police court before Judge Culliton.

Ward Is Jailed.

Monday night the police were called to 23 German street where they arrested Michael Ward, on a charge of disorderly conduct in using loud language. This morning Ward was sentenced to 10 days in jail.

Friedman Fined $5.

Isidore Friedman of Accord, arrested Saturday afternoon for double parking on Wall street, was fined $5. Mr. Friedman hated to part with the money and also hated to go to jail for 5 days. He did not make up his mind until the commitment to jail was drawn by the city judge, and he was invited to step into the police car. Then he paid the fine.

The work, labor and services action brought in county court by L. F. Bannon Plumbing, Heating and Contracting Company against Michael Goffredi was continued this morning before Judge Traver and a jury. Mr. Bannon seeks to recover for extra work done for Mr. Goffredi in the building at Cedar street and Broadway in 1929. It is the contention of plaintiff that Mr. Goffredi requested certain extra work in addition to work called for under a contract at the time of the alterations to the building. N. H. Fessenden and M. O. Auchmoody appear for plaintiff and A. J. Cook for defendant.

Judge Traver this morning granted the motion of plaintiff to amend the complaint to include items amounting to $54.45 which had been omitted from the original complaint. Mr. Cook made no objection and asked to amend his answer to deny the authorization of the items.

No. 5, 2 and 3, which had been on the day calendar for trial, were removed and marked over the term by consent. The day calendar now is: No. 1, on trial, 6, 9 and 14.

New York Beer Bill Effective on June 1

Five Persons Will Constitute State Board—Each County Will Have a Bi-Partisan Local Board of Two Members.

Albany, N. Y., April 11 (AP).—New York's beer control act finally approved by the legislature, briefly, is as follows:

Five persons, with Police Commissioner Edward P. Mulrooney as chairman, will constitute the state board. Anyone refused a license by a local board may appeal to the state board, decisions of which are reviewable by the courts.

The new law becomes effective June 1, until which time regulation rests with the localities.

One dollar a barrel is the tax on beer. Ten cents a gallon is the levy on wine. Both may be sold under one license.

Each county will have a bi-partisan local board of two members, one named by the state board and the other by the chairman of the board of supervisors from a list submitted by the county medical society.

Local boards will pass first on applications for retail licenses, but they may be overruled by the state board. Members of local boards receive only expenses. These may not exceed $1,000 a year in New York city; $500 a year in counties like Albany, and $350 a year in counties of less than 50,000 population.

The state board may permit bars in its discretion.

No beer may be sold between 2 a. m. and noon Sunday, but stricter closing hours may be fixed by local boards.

Beer may be consumed on the premises in restaurants, clubs, beer gardens, hotels, dining cars and steamboats. These places also may sell the beverage to be taken out in bottle or can. It is not necessary to buy food with beer.

Grocers and druggists may sell beer for consumption off the premises.

Brewers are forbidden financial interest in any retail place, except a beer garden at the brewery.

Brewers are permitted home deliveries by the case.

Violation of the law is a misdemeanor, but a judge may suspend sentence. Originally the bill provided that a second offense should be a felony, with no suspension of sentence permitted.

The beer traffic is closed to minors, aliens, ex-convicts and those whose licenses have been revoked.

Beer may not be brewed without a license, except for home brewing.

Seek Man to Take Up Job Left by Mulrooney

New York, April 11 (AP).—With Edward P. Mulrooney resigning to become head of the state alcoholic control board, New York city's mayor had today the job of finding a new police commissioner.

Shortly after Governor Lehman in Albany last night announced his choice of Mulrooney to head the board, the police commissioner said he would present his resignation in writing to Mayor O'Brien today.

Mayor O'Brien has not yet indicated whom he may select for the post. Mulrooney, who rose through the ranks from patrolman to inspector before becoming commissioner, has held the position since he succeeded Grover Whalen about three years ago.

Mentioned as possibilities are Thomas F. McAndrews, secretary to the mayor, James J. Hoey, who was Mayor O'Brien's campaign manager, Chief Inspector John J. O'Brien, First Deputy Commissioner Philip D. Hoyt, Inspector Thomas Cummings of Brooklyn, and Assistant Chief Inspector John J. Sullivan, head of the detective division.

Commissioner Mulrooney, resigning today, brings to a close a service of a little more than 25 years in the New York police department.

Woodstock Artists Will Judge Posters

Carl Eric Lindin and Miska Petersham, noted Woodstock artists, have generously consented to act as judges in the poster contest held in connection with the Clare Tree Major production of "Little Women" at the Broadway Theatre on Tuesday morning, April 18, at 10:30. Announcement of the winning poster will be made within a few days.

Seats for "Little Women" are now on sale at the box office of the Broadway Theatre. Those planning to see the play are urged to buy their tickets early in order to avoid a last minute rush at the box office such as occurred at "Rebecca of Sunnybrook Farm." The curtain for "Little Women" must be raised promptly at 10:30, regardless of waiting crowds in the lobby. In order that the company may leave immediately after the performance for an engagement in Poughkeepsie.

Bank Stockholders Must Furnish $100,000 More to Satisfy Federal Government—Depositors Asked to Subscribe Between $650,000 and $700,000 in Class A Preferred Stock, Using One-Third of Their Deposits to Take Up Proposed Stock Issue—Alternative Will Be Liquidation of Bank's Affairs—Directors Have Already Contributed $270,000 As a Gift.

Letters to stockholders and depositors of the National Ulster County Bank and Trust Company are being sent out today setting forth a plan which if approved will reopen the bank. These letters, sent out by Conservator Willis G. Nash, copies of which follow, are self-explanatory and set forth the plan in detail.

If the responses to these letters are sufficient to meet the requirements the plan will be submitted to the Federal authorities for approval and it is the expectation of Conservator Nash that this re-financing plan will meet with Federal approval.

The plan is similar to plans which have been adopted in other instances, certain alterations naturally being made in this case to meet particular local conditions but the plan in general has been successful in other instances and will, if approved, result in the re-opening of the local bank.

These letters which are being mailed out today state the plan in a very complete and concise manner. The letters follow:

April 11, 1933.

To the Stockholders of the National Ulster County Bank and Trust Company, Kingston, N. Y.

After careful consideration of the affairs of the bank, consultation with directors, stockholders, many depositors and friends of the institution, a plan has been formulated which is thought to be fair to all concerned, which we believe will have the approval of the Treasury Department, and a plan which gives real promise of putting again in active business the old bank in which we are all interested.

The Directors representing approximately 700 of the 2,000 shares of stock in this bank have already contributed $270,000 as a gift to the bank, applied against losses and shrinkage in assets.

The Federal Government imperatively requires at least $100,000 more from the stockholders generally before it will permit an approach to the depositors to subscribe for Class A preferred stock, (amounting in their case to over $500,000) to rehabilitate and restore to soundness and to the reopening the bank for complete and normal operation.

To meet this requirement I ask the stockholders of the remaining approximately 1,300 shares to subscribe to the purchase of Class B preferred stock up to $100 for each share of stock now held.

This new preferred stock is to be issued in shares of $10 par at the price of $50 each (2 shares for each $100 subscribed). This preferred stock is entitled to 6 per cent dividends on the par value and is non-assessable and subject to retirement at the price paid for it after the Class A preferred stock taken by the depositors (also subject to redemption) has been previously retired.

Depositors are to be asked to subscribe to Class A preferred stock, par $10 and in view of large amount asked of them, the price is fixed at $37.50 per share.

If at least this $100,000 is not underwritten by the stockholders the U. S. Treasury Department will not permit me to go on with the reorganization of your bank.

If reorganization is not effected the bank must be liquidated according to law and your stock become subjected to assessment prescribed by National Bank Act.

Obviously therefore it is to your interest as stockholders to make this subscription and I urge each and every stockholder thus to aid in the re-establishment of the bank.

Please fill in and sign and return enclosed subscription blank at once as it is very important that there be no delay in perfecting our plan of reorganization. You will realize that time is of utmost importance for the benefit of all who are interested.

WILLIS G. NASH,
Conservator.
April 11, 1933.

To the Depositors of the National Ulster County Bank and Trust Company, Kingston, New York.

After careful consideration of the affairs of the bank, consultations with directors, stockholders, many depositors and friends of the institution, a plan has been formulated which is thought to be fair to all concerned, one which we believe will have the approval of the Treasury Department, and a plan which gives real promise of putting again in active business the old bank in which we are all interested.

The Directors of this bank have already contributed $270,000 as a gift to the bank and applied against losses and shrinkage of assets. Additional subscriptions from the stockholders to newly authorized preferred stock of $100,000 more, Class B stock will be $10 par value entitled to dividends at 6 per cent on par value. The purchase price of this stock is to be $50 per share.

In order to meet requirements of the U. S. Government for the rehabilitation of the bank and for authority to reopen it to complete and normal operation additional preferred stock to be known as Class A preferred must be issued to produce between $650,000 and $700,000 to put the bank on a sound basis.

The depositors are therefore asked to subscribe for this Class A stock by using 2 1/3 per cent (one-third) of their deposits to take up this stock at par value of $10 per share to be paid for out of said one-third of their deposits at $37.50 per share. This preferred stock is entitled to 6 per cent dividends on the par value and is non-assessable and subject to redemption at the full price paid for it, said redemption to be made prior to any redemption of Class B preferred taken by the stockholders and prior in all its rights to Class B stock.

This plan is of course subject to the final approval of the Treasury Department of the U. S.

If reorganization is not effected the bank must be liquidated according to law, in which event in my judgment the stockholders will lose their entire investment and likewise, in my opinion, the depositors will suffer a substantial reduction in their claims in the event of receivership.

What they are now asked to subscribe has a provision for ultimate repayment out of earnings and recoveries in value of assets.

Besides which if the bank is thus reorganized the remaining 66 2/3 per cent (two-thirds) of their deposits will become immediately available in the normal and usual operations of banking.

Obviously therefore it is to your interest as depositors to make this subscription and I urge each and every depositor thus to aid in the re-establishment of the bank.

Please fill in and sign and return enclosed subscription blank at once as it is very important that there be no delay in perfecting our plan of reorganization. You will realize that time is of the utmost importance for the benefit of all who are interested.

Beer Law Imposes Same Tax on Cider

All Fruit Juices are Taxed at the Rate of $5 for Each Barrel of 31 Gallons and Permits to Manufacture Must be Obtained.

House of Representatives, Washington, D. C., April 4, 1933.

To the Editor of The Freeman:

There is such a confusion in the minds of our farmers, apple growers, cider mills and vinegar manufacturers regarding the interpretation of Public Bill No. 3, 73rd Congress, H. R. 3241, which an act to provide revenue by the taxation of certain nonintoxicating liquor, and for other purposes, that I feel it to be a matter of local and public interest.

I enclose herewith the interpretation which will be placed on the section of this bill referring to the manufacture and sale of cider. This interpretation is the result of my investigation through the Treasury Department, Commissioner of Industrial Alcohol, Dr. Doran.

Yours truly,
PHILIP A. GOODWIN

The following relates to the application of the Act of March 22, 1933, Public Law No. 3, H. R. 3241, regarding the production and sale of apple cider.

April 3, 1933.
The Act of March 22, 1933, places a tax on all fruit juices which would include apple cider, containing one-half of 1 per cent of alcohol by volume and not more than 3.2 per cent of alcohol by weight. This tax is at the rate of $5 for every barrel containing not more than 31 gallons and at a like rate for any other quantity or for the fractional part of a barrel authorized and defined by law. Before engaging in the manufacture of this product for sale the law requires that a permit be obtained in the same manner as a permit for the manufacture of intoxicating liquors.

"Sweet cider" manufactured for sale, which is maintained by pasteurization or the addition of a preservative at all times below one-half of 1 per cent of alcohol by volume, may be sold without obtaining a permit or paying the tax imposed by the Act of March 22, 1933. As the production of cider for home use, or for the conversion into vinegar for home use as it is not produced for sale commercially, the producer is not required to have a permit, nor to pay the tax imposed by the Act of March 22, 1933. If the cider so produced becomes vinegar-stock, i. e., contains as much as 1 1/2 per cent of acetic acid by volume, it is not longer cider and may be sold to qualified vinegar manufacturers as vinegar-stock without the necessity of obtaining the permit required by or paying the tax imposed by the Act of March 22, 1933, provided it is transported pursuant to a permit to purchase, issued under the National Prohibition Act.

Producers of sweet cider for sale commercially were required by the National Prohibition Act to obtain a permit. Under this permit they were permitted to produce cider in its various stages until it became vinegar-stock, which vinegar-stock could be used in the production of vinegar or sold to qualified manufacturers of vinegar pursuant to permits to purchase. Permits under the National Prohibition Act are not longer required if the cider is not produced in its various stages until it becomes vinegar-stock. As stated under the Act of March 22, 1933, cider containing one-half of 1 per cent of alcohol and not more than 3.2 per cent of alcohol by weight, produced for sale, is subject to the tax at the rate stated above when removed for consumption or sale. It has been held under analogous statutes that beer produced illicitly is, for taxing purposes, immediately removed for consumption and sale. It becomes apparent, therefore, that commercial producers of sweet cider and vinegar manufacturers who possess cider containing one-half of 1 per cent of alcohol by volume and who have not become vinegar-stock, possess the article made taxable by the Act of March 22, 1933. Their only protection, therefore, after the alcoholic content reaches one-half of 1 per cent by volume and before it becomes vinegar-stock, is to obtain a permit under the Act of March 22, 1933, in which case it is believed a nominal bond only would be required.

Mrs. Klitgaard Awarded Fellowship

Woodstock Artist Receives Award From Guggenheim Foundation For Study and Travel in Europe.

Woodstock, April 10.—To Mrs. Georgina Klitgaard, Woodstock artist, who is now convalescing at her mountain-side home, above Bearsville, from a recent critical illness, has come word from the committee on selections of the Guggenheim foundation that she has been awarded a Fellowship for study and travel in Europe.

The Fellowships are awarded annually by the Guggenheim Foundation to advance through individuals the arts, painting, sculpture, music and literature, and the sciences. They are given only to such people who, in the judgment of the committee, have shown exceptional talents and abilities in their respective endeavors. The work of Mrs. Klitgaard was such as to call from the jury members unanimous consent. At the request of Mrs. Klitgaard the Fellowship was given for a six-month period only. This is done upon individual request, and the remaining six months are allotted to an alternate. Mrs. Klitgaard intends to use her time abroad in study, observation and visits to the leading museums. The award to Mrs. Klitgaard is approximately $1,300, for a half year.

The most recent tribute to this painter was paid last winter by the Philadelphia Academy in its annual exhibition when Mrs. Klitgaard was winner of the Julie Seenan gold medal for the best landscape in the exhibition, the subject being "Winter Weather."

Mrs. Klitgaard's artistic career has brought her many prizes. In 1929 she was lauded at the Carnegie International in Pittsburgh for her work, and last year in San Francisco she was praised by exhibition jury and public alike. She has held several "one-man" showings of her work in the Rehn Galleries, New York city.

When asked by a Freeman representative when she would leave Woodstock for her European vacation, Mrs. Klitgaard stated that no definite time had been set, but she expects to go either in the late spring or early summer.

With Mrs. Klitgaard will go Kaj Klitgaard, husband of the painter, a well-known writer and illustrator, author of "Seven Months and Seven Days," and many short stories, and their young son, Peter.

Other Woodstockers who have been placed on the Guggenheim Foundation roll of honor this spring are Arnold and Lucille Blanch and Emil Ganso.

Where There Is No Vote
There is no provision of the law for residents of Washington, D. C., to vote there.

TRIBUTE TO MEMORY OF MISS ABRAHAM SHORT

The Dutch Reformed Church in Woodstock, N. Y., on Friday, March 31st, 1933, lost another of its faithful members in the person of Miss Abbie Short, who died at the Kingston Hospital during the month of her life. Miss Short belonged to a generation and a type of Christian womanhood that is rapidly disappearing from our churches. She was born and brought up and lived all her life in the community at the foot of the Catskills. In her immediate family there were only her parents and one brother, all of whom have passed on, leaving no closer relatives to mourn her passing than first cousins. The whole family life was characterized by a love and loyalty of each member to every other member that was as near perfect as could be between those who are only human after all. The early associates of Miss Short and her brother speak of the pleasant atmosphere of that home, which all shared in whether belonging to it or not, whenever as young people they were brought together for a social good time there.

In her earlier years Miss Short was a school teacher and in this capacity served her community with exceptional merit. Her pupils learned from her the graces of the heart as well as the things of the intellect. In this instruction in the higher things of life the textbook brought into use most forcefully though all unconsciously was the book of her own life, in which was reflected the glory of the Master's life.

But Miss Short was above all else a church woman. She was active in all its work and willing and cheerful in every service. Of course she taught in the Sunday school and left lasting impressions upon all her pupils especially upon those of her own sex. But her chosen activity in the church was the work of the Women's Missionary Society. There is no question but that her untiring and patient efforts during times of distress and lapses of interest kept the work of the local organization going on without interruption and when others would have let it drop. Most remarkable of all was her continuous service for twenty-six years as the secretary of that organization down to the day of her death. There are few who can equal such a record.

Truly Miss Short's passing is a cause for deep mourning and sorrow to those who knew and associated with her. On the other hand they have occasion to rejoice as they realize that another of God's chosen saints has gone to be with His Son in glory forever.

The funeral of Miss Short was held at the Reformed Church in Woodstock on the afternoon of April 7, under the direction of Victor N. Lashor of Woodstock and was attended by a large gathering of friends and relatives. The Rev. Harvey I. Todd, pastor of the church, conducted the service, using the words of the favorite hymn, "Jesus, Lover of My Soul," as an appropriate prayer and bringing home to the hearts of the congregation the message of the Scripture as found in Rev. 14:13. Mrs. L. V. Simpkins and Shaffer Vradenburg of Woodstock sang "Asleep in Jesus" and "Nearer, My God, to Thee." Interment was in the family lot in the Woodstock cemetery.

Wikwyck Cemetery Association Met

The annual meeting of the Wikwyck Rural Cemetery Association was held at the office of Judge Clearwater, the president, on Monday morning. The report of the treasurer showed that the expenses of conducting the cemetery for the year 1932, was $16,253.57; that there was still due from delinquent lot owners for the care of their lots in previous years, $7,975.78. Interments are not permitted in lots upon which there is an overdue charge. There were 166 interments during the year, indicative of an unusually healthful condition in Kingston and its surrounding territory. Judge Clearwater was re-elected president. George Burzerin, vice president; Charles DelaVergne, secretary; Henry Downs, superintendent. Judge Clearwater presented a communication from the New York Central Railroad Company which has succeeded to the title formerly held by the Rondout & Oswego Railroad and the Ulster and Delaware Railroad to a lot in the cemetery in which the three companies for many years have buried those of their workmen who had no home and no other burial place. The New York Central Railroad Company wished to make a permanent arrangement for the perpetual care of the lots in which these burials have been made. The president appointed Trustees Van Aken, Rose and Winne a committee to investigate the situation and to report upon the terms upon which the cemetery would agree with the railroad for the permanent care of these graves. Henry Downs, the superintendent, reported that the winter had dealt gently with the cemetery property and that the outlook for the spring and coming season so far as grass, shrubs and trees were concerned, was excellent.

JUDGE CLEARWATER LAUDS BURGEVIN SHOW

Judge Clearwater, honorary president of the Ulster County Farm Bureau for many years, and president of the old Ulster County Horticultural Society, who has seen Easter floral displays in London, Paris and Amsterdam, says that the display in the Burgevin windows and in the interior of the Burgevin store at the corner of Fair and Main streets, in selection and color scheme is one of the finest he ever saw. There is an oriental display of golden colored blossoms which, the Judge says, would be difficult to surpass.

GIRL SCOUTS
ULSTER COUNTY COUNCILMRS. G. W. ROSS, Commissioner.
MISS MILDRED H. EATON, Director.

Within the past month two new Girl Scout Troops have been organized in Ulster county. Miss Minna Strohmman, leader of the Milton Troop, has started a troop in Marlborough which will be known as the Lily-of-the-Valley Troop. It meets every Wednesday at 4 p. m. at the school house. Last Tuesday a group of eight girls in the Saugerties Parochial School met together to form a troop there. Miss Alice Voerge will lead these girls, assisted by Miss Sylvia Amrod. After this group has passed the Tenderfoot test and become Girl Scouts, more girls will be admitted into the troop. In the Kingston troop there are about 38 candidates who are busy preparing themselves to qualify as registered Girl Scouts.

Pine Tree Troop, No. 4, Kingston. We are continuing the study of signaling with Miss Follette. We also played a jumping rope game out of doors. After having a very nice time we closed with a good night circle. The sewing done by our troop is on display in the Singer Sewing Machine Shop on John street. We appreciate very much the courses given us by Miss Catherine Meller, of the Singer Sewing Machine Company. Scribe, Frances Doble.

On Wednesday the Wild Rose Troop held its meeting in School No. 2. Two new members were present. We played a First Aid game out doors. We talked about our second class badges which most of us are earning and discussed other plans. The meeting ended with songs, a good night circle and Taps. Scribe, Rose Helen Meller.

Daffodil Troop, No. 8, Kingston. A meeting of the Daffodil Troop was held on Tuesday at the usual meeting place. We are going to start in taking the "Little Mother's" course with Miss Cassidy, the Junior League Clinic Nurse. This course will enable us to earn the child nurse badge. We distributed some money which we have earned this winter to the needy. We also started work on various other badges. Closing with a good night circle, we sang Taps and repeated the Girl Scout Prayer. Scribe, Rosalind Kreppel.

Troop 3, Kingston—Our regular meeting was held on Friday evening. First we all gathered in patrol corners and worked on our own projects, while Miss Finn instructed the Tenderfoots. Patrol 2 and 3 met together and practiced for a short play which was given later on in the evening. We played a memory game which was very amusing and at the same time, very instructive. After singing a few songs, we had our goodnight circle and the meeting was adjourned. Scribe, Patsy Larkin.

Walkhill Troop—The Walkhill Girl Scouts held a food sale on Saturday at Terwilliger and Sloan's Store. Seven dollars and thirty cents were made at the sale, and the proceeds will be used to pay the members' national dues. The troop is planning on having a "pot luck" supper next Friday night at the home of the leader, Mrs. James Crowell. The Girl Scouts are inviting girls over ten years of age who would like to become Girl Scouts. Scribe, Mary DuBois.

Pine Tree Troop No. 4, Kingston—It was such a beautiful day that we decided to hold our meeting out of doors. So, after patrol corners, we walked up through Forsyth Park. For our Second Class nature we learned three trees, the hemlock, the pine and the spruce; and one deciduous, the shagbark hickory. We also found the hepatica just opening their buds. On Saturday morning the badge class went on a hike. We enjoyed a luncheon cooked over a log cabin fire. The "angels-on-horseback" and "smores" were delicious. Miss Follette wishes a hundred per cent attendance at all meetings because the instruction given should not be missed.

"THERE'S ALWAYS JULIET" GAINS BY CHANGED DATE.

Because of the necessarily changed date of the play, "There's Always Juliet," sponsored by the Federation of Women's Clubs, to April 24, the cast of the play, composed of four players of note, has been improved upon. Originally it had been the hope of Arling Alcine, manager of the play, to present in the role of the leading man, Albert Van Decker, well known to those attending the best Broadway theatrical performances. Because of the first date it was found impossible for Mr. Van Decker to take the part, and Charles Quigley, the juvenile support of Ethel Barrymore for two years, was chosen in Mr. Van Decker's place. Since the play date has been forwarded to April 24 it has been made possible for Mr. Van Decker to take the role of Dwight Houston, which Mr. Quigley could not take on April 24. The play will be given at the high school auditorium.

Young Democratic Meeting.
The Young Democratic Club of Ulster county will hold its regular monthly meeting on April 20, at the club rooms, Byrne Building, corner of Broadway and Henry street. All members are requested to attend this date and to attend the meeting at 8 p. m.

Rapists Ladies Meeting.
Circle No. 1 of the Albany Avenue Baptist Church will meet at the home of Miss Mary E. Lacy, 113 Clinton avenue, Wednesday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

Water Softening Saves Millions. Railroads have saved millions of dollars annually by studies and experiments in softening water for use in locomotives, to prevent the formation of "scale" inside boilers.

HOLLYWOOD SIGHTS AND SOUNDS

By ROBBIN COONS

HOLLYWOOD—Is Hollywood becoming a "sawdust" city, attracting from the stars of its public? The most recent "sawdust" premiere was attended by only a scattering of recognized stars. There was an abundant crowd, the usual old time horde of autograph seekers, the fans who had begun congregating during the afternoon for choice positions along the "line of march." But their fervor had scant reward, except in the customary bustle and ballyhoo, for most of the inveterate premiere attenders were missing.

They're Still There

The phenomenon scarcely can be held to denote a considerable change in the personnel of the star ranks. Many whose absence was noted are still in Hollywood, still active in pictures, certainly still able to meet the reduced fees for first-night tickets. Rather, it may indicate a change in star psychology, a growing away from the period which found delight in the parading of riches and riches and jewels, in the homage and cheers of a crowd with nothing better to do than render homage and cheers to movie stars.

MT. TREMPER

Mr. Tremper, April 10—The Ladies' Sewing Society met in the church hall on Thursday afternoon. Mrs. Hansen was hostess and served nice refreshments. The ladies have nearly completed a very pretty quilt. Thursday, April 14, they will meet in the hall and Mrs. William Hoyt will be hostess at this meeting.

Mr. and Mrs. Ben De Graff and family of Montana spent Sunday at Mr. and Mrs. Burton Gardner's. The Girls 4-H meeting was held in the Club's rooms on Friday afternoon. Five young ladies and their leader, Mrs. C. E. Powell, and assistant leader, Miss Dorothy Rieley, were present.

Rehearsals are being held by Grange members for a home-talent play which they will give in the near future.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Boerker and family of Kingston were guests at Mr. and Mrs. Waldo Boerker's on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. George E. Wilber of West Hurley were callers at Mr. and Mrs. Norman D. Wilber's Sunday.

The Sunday school scholars are planning a picnic to be held over on Rieley's grounds Saturday.

Miss Letta Randall, who has been visiting her sister, Mrs. Clarence Traver, in Rhinebeck, has returned.

groaned at the thought of paying inflated prices for the privilege of fighting crowds and being stared at who always threatened to rebel and stay home, are casting aside old fears and actually staying home.

On The Other Hand—

And then again all these conclusions may be wrong. It may have just happened. Still, it's another occasion to herald the passing of the Hollywood premiere, with its "stars, lights, lowers." This has been heralded before, often with result that the premiere backers have bestirred themselves and lured out more stars than ever. But if the premiere fades into memories of the Hollywood that will not be alone on their journey out. The economy wave is hitting at showy, expensive automobiles, too, whereas once no stellar equipage was complete without a couple of motors from abroad. A writer reports that his boss actually offered to trade him a high powered automobile for his modest coupe. The offer was rejected. "I can't afford," the writer said, "to buy a gallon of gas every time I shift gears." Neither, it appeared, could the executive.

America's glass-making industry first got its start at the beginning of the Seventeenth century at Jamestown, Va., where an English company operated for a few years.

Civil Matters Get Court's Attention

Monday afternoon when county court was convened with County Judge Frederick G. Traver presiding, civil matters were taken up for trial. However, before the civil matters were taken up, District Attorney John B. Murray disposed of several criminal matters which had been adjourned to this term of court.

Clement Lybolt, charged some time ago with burglary, reported to the court. He had been on parole to the probation officer. Judge Traver sentenced Lybolt to Elmira Reformatory but suspended execution of sentence during good behavior and until June 5 when Lybolt will again report to the court.

Reinold T. Marvin of Walton, who has been on parole to Captain Fancher for some time after pleading guilty to an assault charge, was discharged from parole. A report from Captain Fancher was submitted to the court.

Marvin is the youth who some time ago entered the Edward Cunningham place on Washington avenue and created a disturbance by firing a shot through the cash register in the place.

Alfred J. Buse, Jr., charged with having taken David Ebels' car, had his case adjourned until June 5 and he was placed on parole.

Edward Peek charged with burglary and Frank John Rose also were continued on parole until June.

Following the disposition of the criminal matters an action on contract was taken up for trial before a jury.

L. F. Bannon Plumbing, Heating and Contracting Company seeks to recover for work, labor and services the sum of $208.47 from Michael Goffredi for work which plaintiff claims was done in the alteration of the Goffredi building at Broadway and Cedar street in 1929.

Before the matter was presented to the jury, Mr. Goffredi, who appeared for plaintiff, asked to amend the complaint to include an item of $54.45 which he said had been overlooked when the complaint was drawn. There are a large number of items involved in the claim and he stated that the sum of $54.45 was discovered later as having been overlooked.

A. J. Cook, who appeared for defendant, stated that he was unable to check up on the matter as he had not been informed of that item and objected to the claim being presented at this time. He objected on the grounds of surprise.

Plaintiff volunteered to present during the afternoon an itemized statement and the court reserved decision and the case proceeded.

Plaintiff alleges that he had the plumbing and heating contract as a sub-contractor but that the items now sought to be paid for were extra not included in the contract. The contract in the sum of $4,300 has been paid in full. The general contract taken by Mr. Vogel was for $17,500 and he awarded the plumbing and heating contract to Bannon.

Mr. Bannon claims that the extra work was authorized by Mr. Goffredi.

Defendant denies the charges and alleges that the contract of Bannon specified that no extra work was to be done except as authorized in writing and on approval of the architect, Augustus Schrowang.

Mr. Bannon was the first witness called and he testified as to the work done and also told of the extra work which was ordered.

Mrs. D. N. Seore will have charge of devotions. The annual report will be read and officers elected for the ensuing year. Refreshments will be served. A full attendance of members is requested.

Peru's Capital Gets New Dress

Lima, Ancient City of the Pizarros, Is Transformed Into Modern Metropolis.

Developed by National Geographic Society, Washington, D. C.—WNU Service.

DEMOLISHING here, building there; installing modern water and sewerage systems; tearing up rough, age-worn cobblestones, putting down smooth modern concrete and asphalt in their stead; opening up new highways both to the mountains and the sea; and developing motor routes to the outlying regions of the plain: thus the makers of New Lima are transforming the Peruvian capital, city of the Pizarros.

The older portion of the city, as well as the newer region which circumscribes it, is sharing in the modernization. True the older section is and must remain an area of one-way streets, for its thoroughfares are so narrow that even street cars must observe the one-way law. Likewise, the sidewalks are so lacking in elbow room that only two people can pass one another at a time, and the one on the outside must keep a close watch lest he be struck by a passing trolley.

Old and new fight for supremacy. The blue-necked turkey buzzards have lost their role as the official scavengers; the ox-cart has given place largely to the motor truck; the old baroque has abandoned the streets to the modern automobile; and the patient, pained donkey is making his last stand.

Even Pizarro's stern old palace is feeling the urge toward modernization. In days gone by, there was no street in Lima that had a single name throughout its length. Each block had its own particular designation. The two streets that lead from the Plaza San Martin to the National Palace are six blocks long. Each possessed six different names, one for each block.

The municipal authorities wanted to change all this and gave each street a single designation for its entire length. The one they called the Girón de la Unión and the other the Girón Carabaya.

But the populace would have none of it. The man who did business on the northwest side of the Plaza de Armas still wanted to have his store on Escribanos, and the one who held forth on the next block still insisted he was doing business on Mercaderes, and they continue to do so. Consequently the Girón de la Unión is swallowed up by the several calles which compose it.

These may be named without modern-day rhyme or reason, and they certainly are without alphabetical or other indication of their sequence; but the people cling to them, despite whatever confusion it costs the post office, however much it may perplex the visitor, and whatever havoc it may bring the taxi drivers.

How the System Works.

Many interesting stories are told illustrating how this mysterious system works. One concerns a stranger who hailed a taxi in Calle La Merced and asked the chauffeur to drive him to "Bañilano veinte cinco."

The driver did not bat an eye, but drove like Jehu up Jesus Nazareno, skidded on two wheels into Girón Carabaya, raced around Plaza San Martin, and whirled up through Bosa, landing his shaken passenger at the address given—on the same street, but simply in the next block from where he started!

The name Mercaderes tells us of the day when that block was the Wall Street of Lima and Escribanos or the public letter writers who were sheltered under the portals on the west side of the Plaza. Calle Mantas proclaimed the square where the ladies of Peru's golden past "spent their husbands' substance in riotous purchase of shawls, homespuns, Indian textiles, and lingerie."

The history of Lima's past is written in her streets, in names that the municipality long has wanted to wipe out in favor of through designations and numbered blocks. But the people of the city cling to their streets with a devotion that will not permit convenience to triumph over romantic ties with the past.

In wandering about the old city, one comes upon many an architectural relic of the days of the viceroys; but, among all of these, none is more impressive than the monastery of San Francisco. There one may be ushered into a porcelain garden where the artistic tiles of the cloister compete with the living flowers that bloom in the earth they inclose.

No one has described more beautifully the effect of this porcelain garden than Mr. F. P. Farrar, of "The West Coast Leader." "Here," he says,

Sale of Shoes in a Peruvian Market.

"To a porcelain garden, a constant reminder of springtime, where the bloom of delphinium and lupine, the yellow of cyclamen and the gold of anemone, the creamy white of anemone and the delicate of anemone, blend into the fresh foliage of the overhanging trees and the snow of the snow-washed hills."

The charm of the story of the origin of this porcelain garden almost equals the beauty of the ceramic triumph itself. On a November morning in 1619 a vast crowd had gathered in the Plaza de Armas, for there was to be a public hanging, and these events were Roman holidays for the populace.

The public cryer had announced: "The Warrantable and Royal Audience of this City of the Kings has decreed to suffer a shameful death on the gallows Alonso Godínez, native of Guadalajara, in Spain, for the murder of María Villacorta without fear of judgment human or divine. Let him who did so pay the penalty! This sentence is to be read in the presence of all lest they meet a like end! Let justice be done!"

Came a Reprieve.

The condemned man had taken his stand beneath the noose and the hangman was nervously adjusting the fatal knot. Suddenly a monk pushed his way through the throng, climbed the gallows platform, and handed a parchment to the captain of the guard.

After the latter had read it, the two engaged in a moment of animated conversation, after which the padre led the condemned man away and into the portals of the monastery of San Francisco. The crowd, disappointed, hung about the Plaza de San Francisco discussing this strange overthrow of justice and berating those who had denied them their holiday.

But later the reason for reprieve became known. That morning the condemned man had made what he thought would be his last confession on earth, to the prior of the monastery. He said that he was a potter by trade and that he had learned the art both of making and setting tiles.

Years before, Doña Catalina Huancab brought from Spain a magnificent collection of tiles for the decoration of the new cloisters at San Francisco; but neither plan nor a tile setter had come with them, and Lima had no tile setters. So for years the tiles had been piled up in a corner of the monastery; many were stolen and more were broken. Would Providence ever open a way for their setting?

Here seemed to be the answer: the prior saw an opportunity to let the man who had murdered a woman in a drunken brawl repent his sins in a lifelong task of setting these splendid tiles. So he hastened to the Viceroy to implore the pardon of the murderer, and the Viceroy, a descendant of the Borgias, seeing poetic justice in remitting the penalty of service that would require a lifetime, granted the commutation of sentence.

One can see today the wisdom of that act of mercy-tempered justice. Alonso Godínez was a true artist, who loved his work and threw his soul into it. Today "the walls blossom with pictures which in their mellowness, richness, and seductive beauty rival those of the Alhambra itself; and it is doubtful if outside of Spain there is to be found a finer example of porcelain en-tablature in the heyday of its art than here."

Lima is peculiarly a city of churches, with some 70 in its limits; and, with nearly four centuries of outstanding ecclesiastical tradition behind them, the people are much given to buying religious objects. The Cathedral is a magnificent structure, much larger than Pizarro built, but still not so grand as the one erected during the early years of the viceregal regime and destroyed by the great earthquake that wiped out Callao, the nearby seaport.

The high altar is of massive silver construction. In the chapel of the Virgin is a celebrated image presented by the Emperor Charles V of Spain, and in the Chapel Arcediano an original painting attributed to Murillo, representing Jesus and Veronica.

Here rests a glass-and-marble casket which is most interesting of all, for it contains the half-mummy, half-skeleton reputed to be the remains of the great conqueror.

Fashionable Hats Taboo.

The attire for church occasions is perhaps the most conservative in the New world. Even those women who dress in the latest Parisian modes elsewhere put on their plain black mantillas when going to church. In some congregations those who come in fashionable headgear are told politely to remove them and substitute their mantillas before they are allowed to be seated.

Among the fine old residences of Lima one of the most impressively beautiful is the famous palace of Torre-Tagle, once the home of the marquises of that name, but now the headquarters of the Ministry of Foreign Relations.

The City of the Kings long has been famous for its brilliant social life, with a constant succession of luncheons, teas, dinners, dances, champagne, and receptions. Nearly four centuries of wealth, leisure, and opportunity have written their impress of culture on the descendants of the nobility and official classes of the colonial regime.

Most of the higher class residents, so to speak, board with their cooks. The latter are given specified allowances each day, and out of that are expected to keep their masters' tables up to the exact standard, and to keep the market men with whom they deal happy through gratuities doled out to them.

SUPPER FOR WINNERS OF SUNDAY SCHOOL LEAGUE

Port Ewen, April 11—Friday evening, April 7, the Methodist Church house in Port Ewen was the scene of a happy social event, the occasion being an appreciation supper given to the basketball team of the Sunday school, which had won first place in the Sunday School League. The supper was given by the Young Women's Bible Class, assisted by the teachers of the Sunday school. The members of the team were present with their wives or sweethearts and the teachers were present with their families or invited guests. The guests of honor, beside the basketball team, were Carl Foster, physical director of the Y. M. C. A., Joseph Blass and Erwin (Dutch) Craw, referees of the Sunday School League games.

Nearly 70 sat down to the tables which were set in the form of a large letter U. At each place was placed a yellow tulip and here and there were pots of hyacinths, which added their colors to make the tables more attractive. After the supper was served, Wallace C. Mable, who is teacher of the class to which the basketball team belongs, acted as toastmaster. First he introduced Mr. Foster of the Y. M. C. A., who gave a very fine talk on the work done by the boys. At the conclusion of his talk he presented to the team the trophy which they had won. This trophy is a real piece of art, consisting of a green base supporting a silver pedestal on top of which is a silver basketball surmounted by the figure of "Victory." Jack Short, captain of the team, received the trophy in behalf of the boys. Mr. Mable then called upon Mr. Blass and Mr. Craw, the referees, the Rev. Mark Sharples, retiring pastor of the church, and Samuel P. Tinney, superintendent of the Sunday school, for a few remarks. Each one in turn responded with words of praise and commendation for the work and faithfulness of the boys, many of whom have been members of the Sunday school since their cradle-roll days. Twice the boys have won second place, but this is the first they have won first place. They hope to win first place at least two more times, then the trophy will be theirs to keep. The members of the team are Jack Short, Alanson Short, Frank (Bing) Van Etten, Robert Torrens, William Teetsel, Hugh Clark, Roger Mable, Donald Tinnie, Donald Decker, Wilson Tinney and Cleon Jump.

At The Theatres

Today

Kingston: "She Done Him Wrong." Lowell Sherman, who for years has been one of the screen's most consistently capable players, turns actor in this talkie, and does a swell job with a picture that could easily have been a ragged and distasteful tale of a tough, bowery dame of the nineties who isn't true to her man when the prison gates close in on him, and who has a lot of trouble persuading him of her faithfulness when he escapes from behind the bars. Mae West, in the role of the burlesque Boxer moll, contributes a new kind of performance to the talking screen, and her ability to live the part makes her characterization well worth seeing. The show never lets down, and is filled with excitement, a rough and tough atmosphere, and some almost perfect acting by Mae West, Cary Grant, Noah Berry, Owen Moore and David Landau. Adult entertainment.

Orpheum: "The King Murder" and "Troopers Three." Mystery and intrigue bristle from the first melodrama, along with Conway Tearle, Don Alvarado, Natalie Moorehead, Robert Frazer, Marceline Day, and Dorothy Reiter. "Troopers Three" features Slim Summerville, Dorothy Gulliver and Rex Lease.

Broadway: "Perfect Understanding." Gloria Swanson took her newest husband over to England with her, and although not an actor, you will find him in the cast of this, her latest picture. Filmed in England, this sophisticated dramatic effort attempts to find the way toward bliss in matrimony. It's the story of two young people who make a lot of marriage vows so that their wedded life will prove one of happiness. Things do not work out so well, and this is the plot structure of the play. Gloria Swanson, Genevieve Tobin and Michael Farmer are in the cast.

Tomorrow: Kingston: "The Mystery of the Wax Museum." After struggling around for a talkie that would freeze the customers in their seats from sheer terror, at last the movie producers have found a story that should prove capable of giving the desired effect. Here's a holy terror of a show, filmed entirely in Technicolor. A story of a mad and mutilated wax museum owner who comes to New York for the express purpose of gaining a few human figures to carry on his work. The scenes in the museum, with sundry wax figures staring at nothing in gruesome silence, lends added zest to a picture that was made to keep an audience shuddering, and does. The ending will offer the most thrilling scene of all, when it comes to light that the museum owner has been parading around in a wax face himself, because his own face is too mutilated. Lionel Atwill, who does this sort of thing better than any other actor, is at his best in the role of the museum owner, and Fay Wray, Glenda Farrell, Frank McHugh, Allan Vincent and Holmes Herbert are in the supporting cast.

Orpheum: "Big Timer" and "Secret Menace." The story of a smart aleck, and his ups and downs, is disclosed in the first feature with Ben Lyon and Constance Cummings. "Secret Menace" is a romantic mystery melodrama with Glenda Tryon and Virginia Brown Parris. Broadway: "Madame Butterfly." The well remembered romance of the little Japanese girl who loved and lost is again brought to the screen, this time by Sylvia Sydney. Beautiful photography, and gorgeous settings all help to make this talkie a thing of beauty, and the sensitive acting of Miss Sydney in the role of the geisha girl who fell in love with a white man is tender and understanding in its perfection. Gary Grant and Charles Ruggles are also in the cast.

Ardenia, April 11—There will be their rehearsal on Thursday evening to prepare for special music for Easter Sunday.

The two Sunday school attendance teams, the "Chevrys" and "Fords," are running a good race. The attendance is unusually large.

Beatrice Ward of Modena spent the week-end with relatives in this place.

Mr. and Mrs. Dedrick Ronk are the parents of a daughter, born last week.

Miss Myrtle Kelder spent Sunday with her father and sister in this place.

A number of local residents attended the funeral of Nicholas Carroll, which was held in St. Charles Church on Saturday morning.

Mr. and Mrs. Michael Mulvihill of Welden called on relatives in this place Sunday afternoon.

Mrs. William Doolittle and daughter were visitors in this place Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Barclay and children have moved back in town after having spent about a year in Modena.

Mrs. Eber Coy was a recent shopper in Kingston.

Albert Reynolds has returned to his home in Modena after having been employed by George Alhusen of this place for some time.

The Girl Scouts held a meeting at the home of Mrs. Ward Black in Modena Wednesday afternoon.

Mrs. Dan Reilly and father, Alex. Ronk, were callers at the home of Mrs. William Doolittle Thursday.

The Misses Helen and Marion Palmer were callers in Modena, Sunday.

Do YOU Know—

SAYS HER HUSBAND
LOST 16 POUNDS
IN 4 WEEKS

"I have never found a medicine that 'peps' you up like Kruschen's Salts and better still, leaves you 'pepped up.' I take it two or three times a day to reduce but merely to feel good and clean. My husband took it to reduce. He lost 16 pounds in 4 weeks! Mrs. E. A. Ferris, Washington, D. C. (December 28, 1932).

To lose fat and at the same time gain in physical attractiveness and feel spirited and youthful take one half teaspoonful of Kruschen's Salts in a glass of hot water before breakfast every morning.

A jar that lasts a week's cure but a trifle at any drugstore in the world but be sure and get Kruschen's Salts. The safe way to reduce weight, the surest, sweet and delicious chain and again feel the joy of living—money back if dissatisfied after the first jar.—Adv.

Holstein Breeders Completed Plans

The annual spring banquet of the Ulster County Holstein Club is to be held at the Methodist Church Hall at New Paltz, Thursday, April 13 at 6:30.

Mr. Decker, president of the local club announces that this meeting is for every owner of black and white animals in the territory regardless of whether the animals are pure-breds or grades. He says that every dairyman in the county will be interested in the program and that the purebred breeders will be especially interested in the work that is being carried on by the local breed association in the promotion of the breed.

The main speaker of the meeting, A. J. Glover, editor of Hoard's Dairyman, comes to this meeting direct from a strenuous session with the Wisconsin Legislature where he worked to secure desirable dairy legislation in that state.

Mr. Glover has held many positions of honor and trust in connection with state and national affairs dealing with agriculture. He took an active part in the inception and management of the National Dairy Show, and for many years has been a member of its Board of Directors. He was the originator and president of the Wisconsin Dairy Council which pioneered in advertising dairy products. He was a member of the agricultural committee of the Wisconsin Council of Defense during the World War. In 1925 he was one of the official representatives of the United States at the World's Dairy Congress held in London, England. He was secretary of the Wisconsin Dairyman's Association for several years. He has been a member of the executive committee of the American Dairy Federation and is now its president.

In addition to the elaborate speaking program, Harry Beatty, president of the Ulster County Dairy Improvement Association, will award the National Honor Roll certificates to members who have earned them during the past year. Pratt Bolce, president of the County 4-H Club board of directors, will award several special certificates of recognition to seven 4-H Club members for outstanding club work.

Those desiring to attend who have not made reservations should do so at once at the Farm Bureau office in Kingston.

An All-Day Quilting

Not Many Got to See "Possum"

The opossum is an animal which is not often seen in trips afield. It is safe to say that many people have never seen an opossum. The general impression first received is that of a coarse-haired, grayish-white animal, with a white face and dark-colored eyes. The ears are naked and black with white or flesh-colored outer-half. The feet are black; the toes naked, and flesh-colored. The tail is naked, scaly, and flesh-colored. Weights recorded of various specimens of the opossum show that an extremely large female weighed 12 pounds and a male eight pounds. The opossum is well known in the southern part of the United States and has extended its range to the wooded parts of Connecticut, Lake Ontario, southern Michigan, southern Wisconsin, Iowa and eastern Nebraska.

The German Republic

The German Republic dates to November 9, 1918, the date of the abdication of the emperor. A council of people's commissioners in Berlin took over the government, and the reigning emperor of the various states were deposed or abdicated. The imperial parliament was declared dissolved, and arrangements were made for calling a national assembly. This assembly met at Weimar on February 4, 1919, and on February 11 elected Friedrich Ebert as the first president. The Constitution was adopted July 31, 1919. All German citizens, male or female, who are more than twenty years of age are permitted to vote.

Forgetful Plumber

Discovered, the great wrong to a trade and its cause. The wrong is the tradition that the plumber always forgets his tools and has to go to the shop for them. And the reason for the popular misconception, supplied by none other than the technical information department of the Plumbing and Heat Industries bureau, says the Kansas City Star, is this: "There are more than 5,000 kinds and sizes of pipe, valves and fittings in common use, and the home owner who can accurately describe to the plumber what is wrong and what he will need in the way of tools from his vast assortment is rare."

Financial and Commercial

New York, April 11.—After successive sessions of higher prices, the advance in the share market was checked by profit taking today.

The list picked up fractions at the start but soon slid back. Good support appeared in the afternoon's closing prices, however, as traders were impressed by strength of a wide assortment of commodities, including wheat, sugar, cotton, rubber and non-ferrous metals.

General Foods sagged 2 points, when its quarterly dividend was cut to 40 cents from 50, and Nash lost about as much, on deferment of its dividend. Halls turned somewhat heavy, with sectional recessions appearing in Union Pacific, Santa Fe and New York Central American Telephone lost more than a point. Some of the utilities were firm, however, with Consolidated Gas and Public Service of N. J. rising nearly a point.

The continued strength of commodities was the most encouraging aspect of the day's developments. The government's winter wheat crop estimate was lower than expected, and gave that market a brisk upturn. The money market remained extremely easy, with call money renewing at 1 1/2 per cent, but available outside at 1 per cent. Federal funds, which are excess balances at the Federal Reserve, were offered as low as 4 of one percent. Bankers acceptance rates were reduced. The plethora of short term funds had a good effect on the market for U. S. government bonds.

"How to Win Men"

By CORONA REMINGTON

ALMOST on the verge of tears Claire Newton sat curled up in the one big comfortable chair in her bedroom. Her chin rested on her hand, she read the paragraph in "How to Win Men," chapter 12, page 224.

"Men like girls to do as they wish them to, they like to feel that they are ruling things. Any girl who foolishly dares to have opinions contrary to her lover's—or to refuse to do things he wants to do and think the way he thinks is imperiling her popularity."

Well, she had always done as Dick Barton had wanted. She had gone to the movies when she had wanted to dance. She had eaten in a restaurant when she had preferred preparing a picnic supper and driving out to the country to eat it in some green pasture, beside a brook. She had done everything according to the directions given in "How to Win Men" and she had failed.

There was the last day of the second week slipping into eternity since Dick had not so much as called her—and she had liked him, more than she would admit even to herself. She loved his sunny manner, his tall, wiry slimness. She had thought that he liked her—a little perhaps. For weeks he had been so attentive, calling her up nearly every day, taking her out, sending her flowers and candy; and then suddenly it had all stopped. And last night when she was at a movie with her sister, didn't she run right into him with some girl hanging on his arm and looking up at him as only blue-eyed girls can look at men!

She brushed away the stinging tears with a gesture of impatience and flung the book she had been reading across the room.

"Darn you!" she said to the prostrate volume, to Dick, to the girl who had seen draped on his arm last night.

Then she got up, turned off the light and slid into bed.

The next morning there were dark circles beneath her big brown eyes that gave them a tragic expression and instead of the staccato little tap tapplings her heels usually made as she hurried gaily along to work, she moved listlessly this morning without animation or joy.

"Mim Newton, what happened?" asked Mr. Dedron, her boss, pulling out his watch as she entered the office. "I've been waiting for you for twenty minutes."

"I can't help it!" she was amazed to hear her voice say, "I know I'm awfully late and what can I do about it?"

Tears were standing in her eyes and her voice broke on the last words. It was just like old Dedron to come to the office on time the only morning she had been late in months.

"Let's take a dictation first," he said more kindly a moment later, making a mental note to see that she didn't work overtime quite so much.

She had scarcely begun the first letter when the telephone at her elbow jangled in its important, persistent way. With a jerk she removed the receiver from its hook.

"That you, Claire?" Dick's voice asked.

"Yes," replied the girl, too taken back to think what manner she should use toward him after his cool neglect.

"Is Mr. Dedron there yet?"

"Yes," replied the girl, too taken back to think what manner she should use toward him after his cool neglect.

On Good Friday, April 14, the Mass of the pre-sanctified will be said at 7:30 in the morning, and the Reproaches sung, with the customary Veneration of the Cross. From 12 noon until 2 p. m. there will be the preaching of the Passion by the Rev. Francis F. Lynch, rector of Christ Church, Corning.

Lynch is a native of Baltimore, Maryland, a graduate of Mount Vernon College, Baltimore, and of the Virginia Theological Seminary, Alexandria, and was ordained to the Diaconate and Priesthood by the late Most Rev. John Gardner Murray, Bishop of Maryland, and Presiding Bishop of the American Church. After two years in charge of Rock Springs parish, in Maryland, he became assistant at St. Paul's Cathedral, Buffalo, in the autumn of 1931.

He is rector of Christ Church, Corning, one of the largest parishes in the Diocese of Rochester. He is an able speaker and his message of the Cross will be appreciated. Later that afternoon, at 4 o'clock, the Lenten Stations of the Cross for children will be conducted.

On Easter even or Holy Saturday, April 15, much of the day will be given to hearing confessions in preparation for Easter Communion. They will be heard from 10 to 12 in the morning by the assisting priest, Father Malcolm, from 4 to 6 in the afternoon by the curate, Father Auguste F. Marlier, and in the evening from 7 to 10 by the rector, Father A. A. Packard. At 3 p. m. will occur the traditional blessing of the new fire and font, the first solemn vespers of Easter and administration of holy baptism. These impressive services are being revived in Holy Cross parish this year, and it is hoped that many members of the church and others interested will take this opportunity to attend.

Crying Woman's Rights

The tear is woman's weapon and she does not look with approval upon the glittering gem as it courses down the masculine cheek. She likes evidence of his devotion to her, but she prefers it in the form of vigorous defense of her person and her property.

Of a certainty she likes a rough expression of his love, even if the cave man does not meet her idea as a lover.

To get down to the facts, woman wants a man around who "toots" a hefty "mitt" and delivers a telling blow. The moist lash may do for their love hours, but when the ruction in the apartment comes, the wife will do the crying if any is to be done; but she expects the lord and master of the outfit to defend it.

The writer happened to be in a position a few days ago to see a man cry unashamed at the prospect of the loss by death of a close member of his family and he could not avoid hearing the sotto voce remark of the woman of the species—"the cry-baby."

Legion Benefit Bouts At Old Armory Tonight

Tonight is fast night in Kingston and those who enjoy the leather slapping pastime will have a chance to satisfy their tastes at the old armory where Doc Snyder's American Legion benefit program presents 34 rounds of action featuring the sensational Otis Paradise, Brooklyn Highweight, and Babe Lancaster, Middleweight down brawler, in the feature six-frame attraction.

Paradise as on past occasions when he fought here is the favorite, although the Orange county negro, who has just finished an active campaign around Syracuse, is expected to give him a "whale of a scrap." The Brooklynite is one of the cleverest boys that ever performed here, as every dyed in the wool fight fan knows from his exhibition in the past. Lancaster is known as the "clown boxer." His style is peculiar. He mixes comical movements with fusillades of spasmodic punches that catch an opponent when he least expects. The rugged little negro has put away for the count some clever scrappers with his confusing style, and as Paradise is not invincible, he may "fox" him into an opening that will mean curtains for the smart one.

The supporting card to the headline attraction is as follows, the first bout being scheduled to go on at 8:30:

Semi-Final, 6 Rounds.
Buddy Emerson, St. Remy, vs. Bobby Jones, Brooklyn.

Special, 6 Rounds.
Jerry Wright, Amateur Federation heavyweight champion, vs. Joe Smith, Brooklyn.

Four Rounders.
Ben Selgel, Ellenville, vs. Red Kaufman, Brooklyn.
Joe Myers, Kingston, vs. Jack Dwyer, Brooklyn.
Joe Turck, Kingston vs. Joe Melio, Brooklyn.
Young Siskler vs. Billy Buckman, both of Kingston.
Reserved seats are on sale at the American Legion, phone 1914.

Wrestling Banned In State of Illinois

Chicago, April 11 (AP).—Professional wrestling was an exile from Illinois today.

After an exhaustive investigation into the match at the Chicago Stadium last Friday night, which resulted in a disputed one-fall victory for Jumping Joe Savoldi over Jim London, the Illinois State Athletic Commission banned professional wrestling indefinitely in the state. A card, offering Jim Browning and Ed "Strangler" Lewis at the Chicago Coliseum tonight, was ordered cancelled.

The banishment order was the most drastic ever tossed at wrestling in Illinois, where the sport had made rapid progress as a crowd attractor despite a rule that no match could be labelled a championship battle.

Savoldi, whose victory over London was an upset comparable to the victory of the late Wayne "Big Munn" of Nebraska over Lewis several years ago, was awarded the fall by the commission, which upheld the decision of Referee Bob Managoff. All kinds of rumors, the most persistent of which was that the Savoldi victory was a neat case of double crossing by someone, flew around today but it was just a case of where you sat.

SPORT SLANTS

By ALAN J. GOULD

(Associated Press Sports Editor.)

There has developed no demand whatsoever for Maureen O'Hara to demonstrate, on behalf of her sex, that she was not feinting when she suggested a willingness to play any masculine star of the links on even terms, with the exception of Bob Jones.

This discussion of relative athletic prowess may be all very interesting now and then, but it is strictly academic. There is no more necessity of Maureen or any other feminine golf star trying conclusions with the masculine star than there was any need of demonstrating, by actual test, that Jim Housch could score more points in the deration than Babe Didrikson.

At that, if the Babe could pole vault and heave the shot without breaking an arm she might run up a fairly good total of points in all-around track competition. She probably could outrun and outthrust Housch.

The proper suggestion, however, comes from Helen Willis Moody in advising all girl athletes as follows: "Practice with men, they will help you, but do not challenge their supremacy, for they will beat you."

Trudy The Exception
On the feminine side, I thing the greatest athletic performance ever turned in was Gertrude Ederle's feat of swimming the English Channel in record time in 1926.

This called for a rare combination of speed, stamina and courage. Miss Ederle had them all. She could more than compete on even terms with the best male distance swimmers of her day. She swam the channel in 14 hours, 31 minutes, a truly astonishing performance.

In no other sport, however, has any woman competitor approached the best masculine standard. There have been days and rounds when Glenna Collett Vare or Joyce Wethered, the great British golfer, would be difficult even for a Jones to defeat. Mrs. Moody has beaten in practice one or two members of the men's first ten in American tennis. But these are not indicators of the vast general difference in playing standards. They are merely tributes to an exceptional woman's ability.

No Place For Women
By now it probably has dawned on Babe Didrikson and her sponsors that woman's place is not in professional athletics, in these or any other times.

There have been a few instances where it offered lucrative opportunities, chief among them being the barnstorming professional tennis expedition that C. C. Pyle organized a half dozen years ago, featuring Suzanne Lenglen and Mary K. Browne. It did not last, however, and Miss Browne experienced the embarrassment of being barred from amateur golf for a few years as a penalty for her professional venture.

Swimming is the only sport which has consistently offered women stars a chance to capitalize their name and ability through the commercial pools or the movies.

Cars Crash Near New Paltz.
New Paltz, April 11.—On Sunday afternoon, April 9, an automobile accident occurred on the New Paltz and Highland road near the residence of S. M. Kevan. Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Elliott of New Paltz were driving toward Highland and Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Schandel of Pencil Hill, New Paltz, were coming toward the village when the cars collided. Luckily no one was injured. Mr. Schandel's car was damaged quite badly while damage to Mr. Elliott's car was slight.

They'll Be Off In Pennant Races Tomorrow

Baseball time is here again and you'll soon hear that clamor that comes either from the bleacher patrons as they cheer on their favorites or from the club owners as they lament the scarcity of bleacher patrons. It's too early to tell yet. Four of the game's outstanding figures are shown against a background of one of the bumper crowds of yesterday.

At left is Lefty Grove of the Athletics, peer of all present day pitchers. Next is Chuck Klein of the Phillies, leading home run slugger of the National league, and beside him Jimmie Fox of the A's, siege gun of the American circuit. At right is Lonnie Warneke, the Chicago Cubs' sensational young righthander, leading pitcher of the National league last season.

Mightiest Players Out Of Starting Lineups

By HERBERT W. BARKER
(Associated Press Sports Writer)

New York, April 11 (AP).—An unprecedented number of the mightiest players in the game will be on the sidelines when 16 clubs, baseball's upper-crust, opens the major league season tomorrow in eight cities.

Through injury, illness, or some other cause, such famous figures as Kiki Cuyler of the Chicago Cubs, Travis Jackson of the New York Giants, Del Bissonette of the Brooklyn Dodgers, Don Hurst of the Phillies, Rogers Hornsby of the St. Louis Cardinals, and Dick Cofman of the St. Louis Browns will be conspicuous by their absence when the firing begins.

And four others, Glenn Wright of the Dodgers, Pinky Whitney of the Phillies, Jimmie Fox of the Philadelphia Athletics and even the great Babe Ruth himself were listed as doubtful starters.

Prospects of Close Fight.
But despite the impressive toll the injury list already has taken, every club in the National and American leagues faces the new campaign with optimism and hope—and a few with real confidence.

Yanks Favorites.
The world champion New York Yankees, with their "varsity" unchanged and their reserve power bolstered by such promising players as Brennan, Van Atta, Werber and Walker, remain the club to beat for the American League, butting but Washington, the Athletics and Cleveland's Indians all are prepared to give the title-holders much greater competition than they got a year ago. Washington, led by the youthful shortstop, Joe Cronin, bartered players with reckless abandon during the off season and emerged with what may be the best balanced club in the loop.

The A's, though they traded Simmons, Hass and Dykes to the Chicago White Sox, have discovered hard-hitting replacements and still can depend upon the great pitching duo of Bob Grove and George Earnshaw. Cleveland, if the Indians fail to finish in the first three, should be able to salvage the last first-division berth although Detroit and the White Sox may have a few pertinent remarks to make in rebuttal. The St. Louis Browns and the Boston Red Sox seem slated for the last two positions.

National Free For All.
A free-for-all involving perhaps as many as six clubs looms in the National League where the champion Cubs, despite the injury to Cuyler, and the Pittsburgh Pirates, strengthened by the addition of Freddy Lindstrom, seem best. The Phillies, with a great all-around slugging cast headed by Chuck Klein, the Brooklyn Dodgers, with new pitching talent and Joe Judge at first base, and the Cardinals, with the greatest pitching staff in the circuit, cannot be counted out. Neither can Bill Terry's rebuilt New York Giants, provided "Memphis Bill" can juggle what looks like a mediocre fling crew into some kind of effectiveness.

Neither the Boston Braves nor the Cincinnati Reds, on paper at least, look impressive enough to worry the leaders.

Action Demanded.

On the eve of the openings, John Arnold Heydler, president of the National League, with Will Harridge, president of the American League, concurring, issued a warning to the players against fraternizing with rivals or loafing at any stage of the 1933 race.

"No outdoor game can compare with a major league ball game," Heydler said, "but that game must be played aggressively by both sides."

Wednesday's Starters.
The opening day's schedule follows:

American League—Philadelphia at Washington; Boston at New York; Cleveland at Detroit; Chicago at St. Louis.
National League—Pittsburgh at Cincinnati; St. Louis at Chicago; New York at Boston; Brooklyn at Philadelphia.

Finds Young Hedgehogs

Soft, Also Inquisitive

One evening, when it was almost dark, I noticed a small creature come out from under a shed in my garden, and nimbly trot down the path and across a patch of lawn, writes a well-known naturalist. Suspecting what the animal was, I determined to become better acquainted, and so the next night found me waiting patiently in the shadow. Sure enough, about the same time of the evening my friend appeared again, this time, however, followed by three babies, all in a straight line. I quickly picked up the last of the procession and carried my prize into the house.

It was, of course, a young hedgehog, and was most interestingly inquisitive. There was no sign of fear, and after the first moment of my picking him up, showed no intention of making a ball of himself. I put him on the dining table, and he quickly investigated everything he could see. Although the light was on he did not seem to mind, and even allowed me to touch him again without remonstrance. He was delightfully soft to the touch underneath, and the spikes did not inconvenience one as long as the hand was held flat. Not wishing to make his mother uneasy, I soon returned him to the garden, where the rest of the family were sauntering about the lawn.—Montreal Herald.

The Dominican Republic will have 20 years for the safety of its president, General Rafael Trujillo, when he rides about the country in a new automobile, soon to be delivered to him. He will be as secure from any possibility of injury as if he were in a fortress. The new presidential car, a Packard Twelve, has complete protection from even machine gun bullets. In exterior appearance it is much the same as any other Packard. Under the regular body panels, however, there is a thickness of one eighth inch of armor plating. The windows and windshield also are bullet proof. They are of laminated glass one inch thick. The armor plate and heavy bullet proof glass add 1,450 pounds to the weight of the car. One of the front doors alone weighs 150 pounds.

Flashes of Life
Sketched in Brief

By The Associated Press
Chicago, April 11 (AP).—This is the story of Vincent McCourt. For 17 years he was a clerk for the board of education. The board got so far behind in paying salaries that he asked for clarity, but it was denied because he was employed. Temptation came. He took $1,500 in tax anticipation warrants to feed his family of eight children, he said.

The judge listened to the story, then sentenced him to serve 10 months in jail for conspiracy. The position of the school board employee is "tragic," the court said, but if all of them did what McCourt did, the judge added, "there wouldn't be enough policemen in Chicago to hold them in check."

Use For Old License: Go to Church. Mt. Clemens, Mich.—Those out-of-date 1932 automobile license plates may be used with penalty next Sunday if the user is on his way to or from church.

According to the request of Macomb county ministers, Sheriff George Smith and Police Chief Arthur Hossack agreed to make no arrests under those circumstances, for use of cars with old plates on Easter Sunday.

This Will Be All Right.

Madison, Wis.—It will be all right for Madison policemen to take a slip of 3.2 beer now and then, but Chief William H. McCormick said he'd advise them to use food judgment.

How to Kill Rodents.

Great Bend, Kas.—"Dutch" Smith of Pawnee Rock decided to drown the mole that was ruining his garden. He placed a hose in the runway and turned on the windmill. The mill pumped water through the hose three days and nights. Then Mrs. Smith wanted fruit from the cellar. She opened the door and found the cellar full of water.

Descent of Man

Miami, Okla.—Two federal officers treed a suspected moonshiner near here. It happened after they had seized a 100-gallon whiskey still and arrested Mrs. Walter Ford. They couldn't find her husband.

Then they spied Ford sitting in a tree top, competently smoking a pipe. He wouldn't come down. The deputies obtained axes and began chopping the tree. Ford descended.

Too Late

Carbondale, Ill.—A one time $400,000 brewery, owned by the heirs of Rudolph Stecher, was sold under the hammer at Murphysboro for $6,200, less than a week after the return of beer. A mortgage judgment and taxes were due.

13-Month-Old Globe Trotter.

Philadelphia—Miss Mary Durkin has her wardrobe ready for a transatlantic trip to visit her father, Jerome Durkin, in Ireland. It contains new shoes and a toy dog and Miss Durkin is inordinately proud of the latter for Theresa is just 13 months old. With the exception of a stewardess, the Glinham greyhound will be her sole companion.

A True Fish Story.

Madison, Wis.—Fish may now be grown to order. Edward Schneberger of the University of Wisconsin zoology department informed scientists that workers connected with the state's geological and natural history survey had discovered that the growth of fish could be stimulated by fertilization of lakes and streams. Experiments, he said, in fish ponds revealed a big mouth bass could be grown to a length of 11 inches in a year. Under ordinary conditions they don't reach their usual length of 10 inches in less than five years.

Beer Boycott

Minneapolis, Minn.—The state president of the W. C. T. U., Mrs. Harriet G. Northfield, said Minnesota members of the organization would be careful not to patronize drug stores, groceries and restaurants where they sell that new 3.2 beer.

A Time Eating Youngster.

St. Paul—Three year old Billy Jorgenson, who liked to fool his parents by telling them he had eaten some household article, made good by "eating" his mother's wrist watch. Today he was in a hospital here under the care of a physician who said he is in no danger but will have to remain several days.

HOLY WEEK AT THE COMFORTER CHURCH

Services will be held at the Church of the Comforter on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday evenings at 7:30. On Wednesday evening the Rev. Dr. James Cantine will preach the sermon and the vested choir will be present and sing the anthem, "Whosoever Believeth Shall Live." Thursday evening the Sacrament of the Lord's Supper will be celebrated and a class of candidates will be received into the fellowship of the church. Those who join on confession meet at 7 in the hall. The soloist will be George Hudler, who will sing, "There is a Green Hill." Holy Communion during passion week is always very largely attended. The pastor hopes that all who read this will consider it a personal invitation to attend this service as well as the other services during the week. Friday evening the Rev. Dr. Boore of the First Reformed Church will preach the sermon and Mrs. George Hudler will sing the solo, "The Wondrous Cross."

ONLY SIX IMPORTS
ARE VITAL TO U. S.

All Other Needed Articles Are Produced Here.

Washington.—America's billion-dollar import trade could be cut to just six vitally necessary articles. Out of the myriad types of goods which flow into this country each year, only a half dozen are absolute necessities which have no substitute produced here or which are not already produced in this country.

These six articles, listed by the United States department of Commerce, are platinum, tin, manila, steel, kapok and rubber. In 1931, the latest year for which detailed figures are available, they made up only 6 per cent of Uncle Sam's total bill for imports. If America's importations were suddenly reduced to those six commodities, cotton, the most important export, could pay for them all twice over.

Coffee, Tea on List.

Another ten articles which cannot be produced here or for which no substitute can be produced are listed by the Commerce department as only semi-necessities. They are coffee, tea, cocoa, camphor, cinchona bark, cork, opium, cloves and pepper.

Cataclysmic upheavals would transform American economic and social life if imports came to include only the unproducible necessities or even the semi-necessities listed by the department. But it could be done.

Commerce experts have sorted out not only the products which America must have, but also those now being imported which could be produced domestically under favorable price conditions, which could be replaced by American substitutes and which are partly produced at home already.

Together these categories, which embrace only 60 articles in all, are half of the skeleton of American foreign trade. Altogether their cost in 1931 did not make up more than 56 per cent of what the United States actually spent on imports.

The other half of the skeleton is the ten leading American exports, cotton, petroleum, automobiles and other vehicles, industrial machinery, tobacco, fruits and nuts, grains, nonferrous and nonprecious metals, and coal and related fuels. They are the goods bringing the most money, in the order named, into this country.

If foreign trade were suddenly cut to the skeleton, if America bought only the 60 commodities on the Commerce department list and sold only the ten types of goods now most largely sold abroad, she would still have had a $286,000,000 favorable balance of trade on the basis of 1931 figures.

Economic maturity stealing upon Uncle Sam is revealed in the two lists, the one of important exports and the other of vital imports. America is no longer a young country pouring out bounteous raw materials in exchange for manufactures. Two of the leading exports, automobiles and industrial machinery, are manufactures.

All Are Raw Materials.

Imports tell the same story. All of them are raw materials and most of them, not being native, would have to be bought regardless of the country's economic age. Others of the essential imports, however, disclose the exhaustion or outstripping of natural resources known as economic middle age. For instance, America, the land of lush forests, must import pulp wood.

None of the six absolutely irreplaceable imports—platinum, tin, manila, steel, kapok and rubber—ever have been produced in this country, however. They play a very small part in America's actual import business.

Most costly import on the department's whole list is sugar. It is classified as a necessity which we import but which we also produce in some measure at home.

Silk, a semi-necessity for which American products could be substituted, commands the second largest import business among the articles listed. China, Japan, and Italy ship it into this country. Coffee, an irreplaceable semi-necessity is third in importance, and newspaper, a necessity produced in part at home, is fourth.

Taken together these four imports made up exactly a third of the money spent abroad for imports during 1931. They composed 50 per cent of the cost of goods listed by the department as necessities and semi-necessities. After them in importance comes rubber and wood pulp. Between these six commodities and the other necessary and semi-necessary imports is a great gap.

Florida Lands Will Be

Opened for Homesteads

Tallahassee, Fla.—Florida plans to open large areas of state owned lands to homestead. The procedure will be similar to the homesteading of the United States government lands—that is, the colonist will be required to live for a part of the time on the state land which he selects and, at the expiration of a certain period, to present evidence of having made certain improvements before the title of the land can pass to him.

San Francisco.—Because her husband, Herman Berger, New York city subway motorman, had his hair waxed and then permanently waved, his wife Hannah obtained an interlocutory decree of divorce. She termed her husband's actions "mental cruelty."
